ACCESS for ELLs 2.0 Online

As a reminder, for any domain, Paper or Online, that does not have an appropriate Do Not Score code on the back of the test booklet, the following will apply.

1. General Attemptedness Criteria

Domain	Minimum Criteria for “Attempting” the domain
Listening	There is at least one scored item in the domain with a response captured (and is visible in the data file) Practice items are not scored items and therefore do not count towards an “attempt.”
Reading	There is at least one scored item in the domain with a response captured (and is visible in the data file) Practice items are not scored items and therefore do not count towards an “attempt.”
Speaking	There is a sound file with an utterance. Blank sound files do not count as an attempt (example, sound files with only ambient sound; sound files with just breathing- these are NOT attempted).
Writing	KB: a visible key stroke is attempted. (Example, a letter, a symbol.) Space bar and returns do not count as attempted. HW: there is some marking on the booklet in the response space.
